

At Fontana, a Brussels-based communications and - digital - design agency, we are looking for a full- or part-time web developer \(M/F/X\) to work on an array of challenging and innovating design solutions for our European and international clients, active in international management services, chemistry, resources, building & construction, mobility, security, research and society.

As an agency we sense, identify and monitor design trends and challenges, develop these into strategies for sustainable, user-friendly, no-nonsense, easy to implement, refreshing and elegant design solutions.

We go where design and visual communications soundly partner with businesses, communities and civil society, creating a sustainable, dynamic synergy.

Profile:

- You have a very good knowledge of HTML/CSS, PHP, Mysql, JavaScript
- You have a very good knowledge of Drupal7 development, (Back-end, Front-end, Site-building, Drush...)
- You have a good knowledge of other CMS like Wordpress, Joomla ...
- You are able to work efficiently under pressure
- You are able to work independently and in groups
- You are fluent in English, French and/or Dutch

If you have a sparkling mind, like to grow, win and be challenged, send your resume and portfolio before March 20th, 2017

Reply by mail